

Policy Summary

Participation and Inclusion

At Assist Community Services each person is encouraged and supported to contribute to social and civic life in their communities in the way they choose.

What does this mean for participants?

- Each person is actively encouraged and supported to participate in their community
- Assist Community Services will strive to develop connections with the community and other organisations to promote opportunities for active and meaningful participation
- Assist Community Services will strive to build opportunities to create an inclusive culture/environment in which differences and capabilities are recognised and value based
- Assist Community Services will support and encourage participants to identify how they can contribute to our service delivery through suggestions, feedback and advice
- Assist Community Services will support and encourage participants to identify how they would like to live their life, including how we can support this through our service delivery

We will do this through:

- Individual planning meetings with participants every six months
- Annual Service User surveys
- Annual Participant/Family Forums or Reference Groups
- Informal conversations and ongoing feedback

More detailed information on our Participation and Inclusion Policy is available in our Policy and Procedures Manual
